Growers Voice Concern Over Inflexible Charges By Agencies

One thing Pentiction growers want the B.C. royal commission to investigate is the matter of various levies, such as the 4c selling charge of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., the 1½c levy of the B.C. Fruit Board and various advertising charges.

About 40 members of Pentiction local BCFGA, meeting last night in the Hotel Prince Charles, expressed concern at the inflexibility of these various charges during crop swings; a short crop year, normal year and surplus crop year.

The lengthy debate on these levies stemmed from a resolution of the board of governors BCFGA Ltd. asking that the selling agency be empowered to levy an increased selling charge to meet deficits incurred from its operations.

F. W. Laird, a member of the board of governors, outlined the board's position.

"We're just handing gravity to these fellows," was the comment of one local grower on this proposed motion.

On the other hand, William Morris felt the board has "no other alternative" and believed the increased levy to be "good, sound business."

Mr. Morris added that growers need not fear that the money will be wasted or squandered.

Mr. Laird pointed out that the current selling levy of 4c is not sufficient to meet operating costs during low crop years, and cited the short crop of 1956 where the agency tallied a $95,000 deficit.

The 4c selling charge, he noted, is to pay the direct cost of the sales effort of the agency, accounting for its production department and claims. It does not include the costs of advertising.

Should the agency accrue a surplus from this increased levy, he said, it will be returned to growers in the form of a rebate. Mr. Laird added that the 20 per cent income tax on such surplus, should it be retained by the agency, would spur rebates.

"It seems like hitting a dog when he's down," said Reginald Duncan. He suggested that the agency look into the possibility of amortization over a period of three years, such as used in packing houses.

Adolf Schwenk wondered in a short crop year if other economies could be made, such as in advertising. "A short crop will sell itself," he said.

Ken Davenport felt that such "criticisms" of the selling agency are "out of line" when the B.C. Fruit Board is taking 1½c, compared to the BCFGA Ltd's 4c.

Mr. Duncan asked what economies had been made by the sales agency during the 1956 short crop.

The BCFGA Ltd. governor, Mr. Laird, replied that last year the agency had less of a sales staff than any time since the organization started.

HITS 26c CHARGE

Mr. Duncan then lashed out at the 26c charge on the No. 2 peach pool. "When costs are of that kind I don't think the agency is running on economic lines."

He also noted that statements

New Trailer Court Proposed At Skaha

Notification that a new trailer court is being planned for an area on the Skaha Lake beach, south of the upland orchards, was placed before council Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Lee, who indicated they had previously operated a similar type of camp near Chilliwack, are planning the venture.

The area is presently zoned agricultural and must be rezoned for the trailer park, if it is approved. The question of both roads and water, the latter from irrigation supply, will have to be considered by council. Several other owners in the area are concerned in some phases of the road-water plans.

Heinz Plant Here Under Consideration

The possibility that the H. J. Heinz Co. Ltd. will establish a plant here is still under consideration. It was learned in city hall this morning.

Acting Mayor Elsie MacCleave told the Herald that there appears to be renewed interest in the plan.

Key representatives of the firm were in the area a few weeks ago, and viewed sites at that time.

MacPhee Arrives To Setup First Hearing

Commission Plans Valley-Wide Hearings

Dean Earle D. MacPhee, sole commissioner inquiring into the B.C. fruit industry, arrived in Pentiction by plane this morning to make plans for the first hearing of the commission set for Wednesday, January 30, in Kelowna.

Accompanying Dean MacPhee is R. P. Murray of Victoria, provincial horticulturist.

Purpose of the commissioner's visit is to "see the individuals who are and have been prominent in the fruit industry and so gain from them a statement of the problems as they see it."

In addition, he is familiarizing himself with fruit industry operations as a whole.

The commissioner states that an enquiry office has been set up in Pentiction.

Name of the commission's secretary will be announced in the B.C. Gazette within the next two days. It is believed A. C. Carter of the Pentiction Horticultural branch will be named to that position.

Vancouver lawyer W. Kirke Smith has been appointed as counsel for the royal commission. He has acted as deputy coroner for Vancouver and was a UBC law school lecturer.

VALLEY WIDE HEARING
Mr. MacPhee states that commission hearings will be held throughout the Okanagan Valley, including such points as Keremeos and Creston.

First public hearing on January 30 will be held in the Kelowna Aquatic Club building at 10 a.m. Length of this hearing Mr. MacPhee says will depend on the number of persons appearing and also on whether the commission desires additional evidence regarding presentations there.

In the meantime, his itinerary for familiarizing himself with the industry includes discussions today in Pentiction and Oliver, tomorrow in Kelowna and Friday in Vernon.

Today in the Hotel Prince Charles he met with A. R. Garrish, president of the BCFGA; R. P. Walrod, general manager of B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd.

A thorough probe into all aspects of the valley industry is promised, judging from the terms of reference for the commission.

Dean MacPhee is empowered to study and report on:

1. What constitutes an economic unit of production.
2. The economics of packing, storage, and processing facilities, procedures and techniques employed.
3. The factors involved in the marketing of tree-fruit products.

Leaning Cycle Proves Costly, $15 Fine Levied

John Lane of Kaledon, 18, was fined $15 in city court yesterday for allowing another minor, whose licence was under suspension, to drive his motorcycle.

He pleaded guilty to the charge before Magistrate H. J. Jennings. The accused loaned his vehicle to Ronald Lindbergh, Pentiction, who had his license suspended following a careless driving charge.

RCMP reprimanded the Kaledon youth on November 10.

Jaycees Present Traffic Ideas To City Council

Advocating a "white line" to indicate a pedestrian walking zone for non-sidewalk streets, and special signs to direct people to walk facing traffic on these streets, the Pentiction Junior Chamber of Commerce traffic committee placed its proposals before council Monday night.

Alderman J. G. Harris, chairman of the public works committee, immediately said that the required white line would necessitate widening of street surfacing. Otherwise, there would not be space enough for traffic and pedestrians, he pointed out.

Alderman E. A. Titchmarsh said that the signs would hardly be necessary as walking against the traffic is today a matter of common knowledge. Other members of council agreed that widening of the pavement would cost as much or more than a footpath. The streets particularly mentioned are Moose Jaw street, Conklin, Hastings, Duncan and Carmil avenues.

Queried about sidewalk construction on these streets, Alderman Harris replied that this work would not be done in the foreseeable future.

While the traffic ideas of the Jaycees were not considered feasible, council indicated appreciation for the enterprise of the young business men presenting them to council.

Youth Released On $2,000 Bail

OSOYOOS — (BUP) — A seventeen year old boy will be tried in higher court on a charge of possession of two revolvers.

Donald Specht appeared in Osoyoos police court yesterday and was released on $2,000 bail.

Early Settlers Sought

Plans are in the stage of development for the B.C. Centennial celebration and Pentiction's 50th Jubilee celebration to be held during the week of May 24, 1958.

As one of the events during the Jubilee celebration, it is planned to organize a meeting of the surviving residents of this city at the time of its incorporation in 1908. In order to prepare a list of such survivors, the local centennial committee requires the assistance of everyone who may have information in respect to the early settlers of this area.

It is important that a complete list be prepared so that invitations may be forwarded to the early residents still surviving. Information in connection with this project, should be forwarded to the secretary, local centennial committee, city hall, Pentiction. The list of names will be completed as soon as possible, and at a later date it will be published so that the names may be checked by all those having knowledge of the residents of this city as it was in 1908.

Interim Budget For City Set At $758,995

Pentiction's interim civic budget for the first four months of 1957, amounting to $758,995, was presented at Monday night's council meeting. It shows an increase of approximately 50 percent over the interim budget of $472,693 for the first three months of 1956.

While part of the increase is due to the extended period, most of it is attributable to uncompleted items carried over from 1956 and also to large equipment purchases asked for early in the year by the city works department.

The extension of the period from three to four months is due partly to the fact that previously the final budget had not been completed until late April. The new B.C. municipal act will require the interim budgets to be completed within the first four months. By carrying out the change now, the routine can be established before it becomes mandatory.

Operating expenses are upped by $68,300 compared to a year ago, it is estimated. But the capital account has been increased from $91,659, to $309,670. Part of this increase is due to the longer term, four months in place of the previous three.

Final adoption of the preliminary budget will be made shortly, so that the finance and other council committees will know as Recently Dr. H. G. Garfisch, who had taken on the job after retiring from his council seat, asked to be relieved of the post.

Council was told that Mayor C. Oscar Matson had interviewed G/C Tennant and obtained his consent to take on the task. G/C Tennant is head of a new Ground Observer post at Naramata.

Immediate ratification of the appointment was forthcoming from council.

TOSCANINI DIES

NEW YORK — (UP) — Maestro Arturo Toscanini, world renowned symphony and opera conductor, died early today at the age of 83. He suffered a stroke while asleep.

The Lighter Side

(Special to the Herald from UP)

A young man walked into a liquor store in Santa Rosa, Calif., levelled a revolver at 68-year-old Mrs. Mary Capitani and demanded whiskey and money. "You're too young," she said as she handed him $50 but refused to let him take a bottle of whiskey. He fled with a carton of cigarettes instead.

Police in Charlotte, N.C., are searching for an 85-pound, four-foot jockey, kidnapped in his silk from in front of a clothing store today. The cast-iron hitching post statue has been the store's trade mark for eight years.

After only 13 days on the job, Leo F. Coyle, 27, of Pentiction, Mich., resigned as Oakland county's traffic probation officer to day. Coyle resigned when it was discovered his driver's license had been suspended for 60 days because of five traffic tickets.

Police in Dayton, Ohio, are looking for an angler who went ice fishing in a jewelry store. His catch included two diamond rings and a necklace. It seems the items were "fished" out of a jewelry store . . . after the crook bored a hole in the display window . . . Inserted a piece of wire and hooked the loot.

A safecracker in Long Beach, California, loaded a safedoor with nitroglycerine . . . touched it off . . . and blew the vault to pieces. But he made contact out of some 12-hundred dollars inside the safe. The operation was a success . . . but the patient died.

EDGAR ALBRIGHT has been chosen good citizen of Osoyoos for 1956 for his outstanding service to the youth of Osoyoos. He has been teaching in Osoyoos since 1951 when he graduated as a teacher. He has helped many students, including retarded pupils, to graduate by extra tutoring. He is also the teachers' representative on the student council. He has annually awarded a plaque to the good student of the year in his class for best conduct, achievement and sportsmanship. The good citizen award was presented to him at the annual banquet of the Osoyoos Board of Trade Monday evening.

The Strengthening Fight

Britain's new Prime Minister and the President of the United States may differ on some aspects of international affairs. But it is gratifying to emphasize that they seem to see eye to eye on one problem involving them both in internal administration.

This is the problem of inflation. President Eisenhower, in his annual State of the Union message to Congress last week, called on business and labor to help in the fight by using restraint in raising prices or in seeking higher wages.

The penalty for failure, he warned, would be increasing pressure on the government to move in with direct controls. Sir Harold Macmillan, it can be taken for granted, will continue to favor the policies which so distinguished his handling of affairs as Chancellor of the Exchequer.

He gave credit screws another turn just at the time when they were beginning to bring the loudest outcry from certain business quarters and from labor.

In Canada, meanwhile, it would seem that a good deal of governmental thinking, particularly amid junior governments, is indifferent to the nation's gravest threat.

This was proven in yesterday's disclosure that Finance Minister Onesime Gagnon, in Quebec, had tabled the highest budget estimates in the province's history, almost a hundred million dollars more than last year.

This is the way, Canada can be sure, to add immensely to the problems of inflation, providing more and more competition for such labor and supplies as are already inadequate to meet the demands of the accelerating economy.

Macmillan's general attitude, it should be pointed out, is even more meaningful than that worked out by the U.S. government.

Despite his plea for restraints by labor and business, President Eisenhower is faced by a spending boost of some $6 to $7 billions by the U.S. government itself in three years' time.

This is hardly an exercise in self-discipline by his government. It does not square with his observation that the inflationary danger "requires a firm resolution that the federal government shall utilize only a prudent share of the nation's resources."

But almost a year ago, Macmillan announced fresh cuts in his government's spending.

Coupled with a boost in the bank rate and a raise in consumer credit controls, economies totalling the equivalent of $260 million really meant something in the Old Country.

In brief, it was much more than a case of lip service to the necessary fight.

More economies have been promised for the next British budget. The axe will fall even on defense spending.

In one all-important aspect of his own nation's affairs, which has its undoubted effect on other nations, Macmillan has shown himself to be one of the strongest and most effective figures in the world today.

It is hoped that the policies which he will doubtless continue to implement in Britain will win more and more converts to a similar way of thinking in Canada. Whatever may be his future fate in other avenues of complex policy making, particularly in the vexing international sphere, he is a treasury counsellor of the highest wisdom, the maker of programs which can have a very real effect on many other of the tangles involving his and other governments.

Strong and decisive hitherto in such matters as he has dealt with, he suggests a refreshing change in the winds that blow from overseas, and it would be wise for us all on this continent to give careful heed.

The Interim Budget

Announcement this week that the interim budget for the city is three-quarters of a million dollars, where the same formula a year ago was only two-thirds of that sum, may be viewed with concern by some residents. Actually, it is no cause for alarm, at least in that one budget fact alone.

This fact that the city is planning to spend this much money in the first four months of the current year does not mean that council is embarking on any wild spending spree. On the contrary, it means that council members are, and have been planning a series of progressive works and intend to proceed with them as rapidly as possible. By so doing may well mean a saving, as less work will have to be crowded into the short summer season. Also, city crews can later concentrate on some projects that require or are better done in, warmer weather.

And the further fact that this city can embark on such a program at this time, and also can announce it is planning for both a reduction in taxes and light rates is evidence of good financing and civic thrift. It also shows the increasing value of property and prospects of Penticton.

Growth Of The Beard

For generations old-timers have been itching for a return of the good old days, and we're happy to note reports that in the matter of beards they seem to be coming back.

The Vandyke, the goatee, Mutton Chops and the Waved Assyrian have their devotees, and barbers who can knock off a flat-top in no time at all are learning the patient art of trimming the Archimandrite of Constantinople.

The consensus seems to be that advertising has had a hand in the growing popularity of beards; the Schweppes man sports a Plymouth Naval that's insured for $10,000 and Wolf Schmidt ad features Cossacks who've swapped their horses for pink chin whiskers. We subscribe to the theory that all this recent hairiness is a result of the popularity of books about the War Between the States, which were hair-raising times, indeed; as one look at the generals' pictures will prove. It may be though, that Elvis Presley, who seems to be growing his beard from the top down, has something to do with the new fad.

But before anybody decides to invest in a mustache cup, we'd advise him to think over the remarks of one anonymous psychiatrist. This gentleman ascribes the popularity of the beard to "modern man's attempt to regain his once dominant position in society over women."

If the ladies ever get the idea that this is what's behind the beard, our guess is that they'll smooth things out so fast the fad will have no chance to grow.

BOOKS

By United Press

"It Seems Like Yesterday" by H. V. Kaltenborn (Putnam) is an episodic review of the years between William Jennings Bryan's first presidential campaign and the desegregation dispute, compiled by a man who played a more active part than most in the developments those years produced. Kaltenborn, who campaigned for Bryan in 1896, served as a sergeant in the Spanish-American war which presented America with its first major international commitments, and he has been a front-line chronicler of major events for most of the time since.

He limits his subject matter to occurrences which he has personally witnessed or currently reported and analyzed. The result emphasizes his acquaintance, at once intimate and extensive, with the modern scene. The book covers every important point in recent U.S. history, and a good many relevant events in foreign countries.

There are major personalities and events here — Mussolini, Hitler and the atomic bomb, for example — but there are also entertaining trivialities like America's various 20th century world's fairs and the abdication of Edward VI. I mixed with the world-shaking happenings as they must always be in human history.

Naturally, Kaltenborn has a good deal to say about the two events with which his name is connected more prominently than any others — the Munich crisis, which established him as an expert on world affairs, and the 1948 election, in which he became a symbol of the men who guess wrong . . .

After twenty years, England's great lady of letters has returned to the novel with "The Fountain Overflows" (Viking). In describing her long-overdue contribution, Rebecca West comments, "I only wrote this book, which is not to say that I am the best authority on what it means." Many a casual reader will nod in complete agreement.

It is the story of a journalist, his wife, and their four children, set fifty years ago in London, told by one of the younger of three daughters.

Like many a fictional and actual writer of great talent, Piers Aubrey, the father, has no practical sense. Like many a wife of such, Clare Aubrey loves with an understanding and patience that is wondrous to behold while she steers the growing children toward maturity. And she has much to cope with: an eldest daughter consumed with ambition to become a great violinist, but who is untalented; two younger daughters who are really good pianists; an even younger son who speaks with the sonority and wisdom which only Miss West could have put into his mouth.

Miss West has not lost her master's touch with words. That quality which is peculiarly hers of turning prose into poetry by the precise choice of words rippling throughout, sometimes so much so that the motivation of the story becomes lost in beauty of the sound. But this is not her best work or easiest understood.

A book about books that is bound to attract much attention is "Sixty Years of Best Sellers" (1895-1955) by Alice Payne Hackett (Bowker). Here is an up-to-date record of books published in the U.S. that most readers prefer.

The record is broken down into several categories such as hardbound books, paperback, cookbooks, technical, religious, etc. Fiction and non-fiction "trade books" are listed year by year, along with contemporary news events. Flipping through the pages can be a fascinating excursion down memory lane. For instance in 1914 when World War I started, America was reading books like "Pollyanna", "Penrod", and the "Prince of Graustark". The year the stock market crashed, 1929, "All Quiet on the Western Front" and "The Art of Thinking" topped the lists. In the depression year of 1933, "Anthony Adverse" and "Life Begins at Forty" were leading in sales. In 1939, when Hitler invaded Poland, "The Grapes of Wrath" and "Days of Our Years" were tops. At war's end in 1945, "Forever Amber" and "Brave Men" were the fiction and non-fiction leaders.

BROADWAY

By JACK GAVER

United Press Drama Editor NEW YORK, (UP) — A number of theater persons have been moaning for years because a comedy by Sean O'Casey, "Purple Dust," has never been displayed here in the more than 16 years it has been available. O'Casey wrote it on the eve of World War II.

Well, it can now be seen down in Greenwich Village at the off-Broadway Cherry Lane Theater with a fully professional cast, and as I think should be apparent to anyone who reads the play, it adds little if anything to his reputation.

There is nothing fresh in the treatment of familiar material, the humor is heavy-handed in the writing and the dialogue doesn't even "sing," something that you expect in O'Casey even if other elements do not appeal to you.

NO COMEDY WRITER This is a comedy, or slapstick farce, if you will. Personally, I don't feel that O'Casey is cut out to write comedy as such. It goes against his basic grain, however, much he might personally feel that he has the ability to create a very funny play when he desires.

It is a fact that in his serious works O'Casey has a fine capacity for creating humorous scenes through character and incident, but this does not mean that he is a first-rate or even passable writer of comedy in the whole sense.

There is, of course, a sort of cosmic undertone to "Purple Dust", but this seems pretty pointless now and couldn't have been too dynamic even when the play was brand new.

The leading characters are two stuffy and well-heeled Britons and their Irish mistress who take over an ancient ruin of a Tudor mansion in Ireland and hope to restore it while reaping the benefits of clean country living.

PRODUCTION AT FAULT The basic "jokes" are the conflicts between the British and Irish points of view and the universal mishaps that befall city folk when they take to the country in any language. This is tired stuff, and O'Casey hasn't been able to brighten it with any degree of success.

The thesis — and the reflection obviously is on British thinking and the empire — is that dying things should be left to die and people should be off on new paths toward ideas instead of wasting their efforts on revival.

This must be said for O'Casey "Purple Dust" might seem somewhat better in a really first-rate production. The one at the Cherry Lane is an unhappy affair on several counts, including the acting and directing. But such improvement wouldn't be sufficient to revive this reviewer's estimate of the play.

FILM SHOP

By HENRY GRIS

United Press Staff Correspondent

ATHENS, (UP) — Obviously, there are two Sophia Lorens. The one recently added to the galaxy of international stars to shine brighter than most of them, occupies one of Rome's finest apartments, drives the most expensive automobile in Italy, owns a villa by the sea, is linked romantically with a big-time Italian film producer, is mobbed by fans wherever she goes and is engaged in a high echelon, high priestess feud with luscious Gina Lollobrigida.

The other is the Sophia I met on the Greek island of Hydra, a hard-working girl who wants more than anything to become an accomplished actress.

She has proved her willingness to learn by having mastered the English language to a point where it sounds almost native, much better than Lollobrigida's.

She has enjoyed primitive life on the island more than her American co-stars of 20th Century Fox's "A Boy on a Dolphin" because she has yet to forget the slums of Naples and become spoiled.

This Sophia has been comparing movie work on Hydra and line-cramming after-hours with the happy school years which in her case were much too brief. An absence of telephones had offered her protective shelter. A movie crew, mostly Italian, composed of simple folk like herself had made her feel at home.

ONE MILLION RUCKS

This Sophia has been leading a frugal existence which suited her fine because she has no conception of the value of money. She does not know what to do with it, so she turns it over to mother. "I have nothing," she laughed, "and mother keeps it all under her mattress."

My world is a simple one. When I was a child and a dirty hungry child at that and had no time for play because I had to help with heavy manual work, I was dreaming of the day when I'll be able to sit back and do nothing. And now that I can afford to relax I dread the mere thought of it."

At 22, she was born on September 20, 1934, — the green-eyed, chestnut haired girl with a figure Rembrandt would have thrilled to paint is making more money than any other movie star in the world. A dirty Neapolitan orphan a mere eight years ago, she stands to make the equivalent of one million American dollars within the current year.

She was paid $200,000 by Stanley Kramer for her role in "The Pride and Passion," made in Spain last summer. She is getting as much for "A Boy on a Dolphin," and for "Legend of the Lost," with John Wayne, coming up next on location in Libya.

This will be followed by "Desire Under the Elms" with Spencer Tracy at Paramount in Hollywood, and another picture at 20th Century-Fox.

District Organization Proposed By Jayceettes

The Penticton Jaycee Club members will meet in Osoyoos on Sunday in conjunction with the Oliver Jayceettes and wives of the Jaycees from Grand Forks to discuss the organization of a district group. The meeting will be held in the lounge at the Osoyoos curling rink.

Plans for participation in the Osoyoos discussions were foremost on the agenda at the monthly meeting of the Penticton club on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Wally Harrison, Lower Bench road.

President Mrs. T. N. Tuck was in the chair for the short business meeting followed by an enjoyable social hour highlighted with tea cup readings by Mrs. Philip Hoot. Refreshments by the hostess concluded the evening.

Alan Swift, who has been stationed with the RCN at Esquimalt, and Mrs. Swift have been guests this past week in Penticton with their respective parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Swift and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lowndes. The young couple left on Sunday to motor to Halifax where Mr. Swift will take an eleven-month course with the navy's electrical division.

Miss Vera Davies has returned after travelling to the coast to be the bridesmaid at the recent wedding of Miss Ena McCalmum and John McLeod at the Church of the Redeemer at Cloverdale. The wedding principals are both residents of Port Alberni.

Miss Kathleen Ellis arrived home on Saturday after visiting for the past three weeks in Vancouver with her nephews and her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. George Wade, former residents of this centre.

Mr. and Mrs. James Nordal have come from Winnipeg to live in Penticton and are in residence at the Eckhardt Apartments.

Mrs. John N. Pearson of Trout Creek, president of the Kamloops-Okanagan District of the Registered Nurses' Association of British Columbia, travelled to Revelstoke today to attend the annual meeting of the nurses' chapter in that centre.

Mrs. Lance Webber is currently in Vancouver to attend the wedding of her niece.

Mrs. Jerry Nelson returned to Vancouver today after spending the past two weeks in this city visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murdock MacKay, Scott avenue.

Mrs. James Fleming, Eckhardt Apartments, was hostess to members of the Lady Lions club at their first meeting of the new year held on Wednesday evening with president, Mrs. Roy Hotson in the chair. A short business session was followed with a very pleasant social hour and refreshments served by Mrs. Fleming, Mrs. Ron Brown, Mrs. Ken Balala and Mrs. Marshall Wilcox.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Nevens have returned home after a short visit in Spokane.

The Penticton Soroptimist International will sponsor a whist party Thursday, January 31, at 8 p.m. in the IOOF hall. A door prize, card prizes and refreshments will be featured attractions at the party being held to raise funds for the club's welfare activities. Conveners are Mrs. Alice Ede, and Mrs. Myrtle Carter.

A former resident of this city, Mrs. J. L. Palethorpe, is making a brief visit in this city en route from Vancouver to London, Ontario, where she plans to take up residence.

Naramata

Mr. and Mrs. George Kroeger and family, former residents of Stettler, Alberta, have gone to Penticton to reside after living in Naramata for the past several weeks.

Stanley Jones has returned to Naramata from Carmi and is currently living in the cottage on the Arnold Pedersen orchard.

G. W. Raitt, who is employed for the winter at Allison Pass, spent the weekend at his home in Naramata.

Mrs. Don Smith, the former Miss Deirdre De Beck, and Mr. Smith have come from Victoria and are in residence on the Victor DeBeck orchard.

Miss Rhona Tennant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Tennant, left in Saturday for Vancouver where she plans to attend business college.

Rev. R. A. McLaren, principal at the Christian Leadership Training School, was the guest speaker at two Vancouver services on Sunday. He spoke at the Central City Mission during the afternoon and again that evening at First United Church.

Rev. W. S. Beames arrived home on Thursday after spending the past several weeks at Nelson officiating as the pastor of the Pro-Cathedral in that centre.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK ERIC BOULTBEE

Miss Sydney Kelley And Eric Boultee United In Pretty Rites At Kelowna

One of the prettiest weddings of the winter season was solemnized at the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Kelowna on December 26 uniting in marriage Sydney Diane, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Kelley of the Orchard City, and Frank Eric, only son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Boultee of this city. Garlands of cedar with pale yellow and white chrysanthemums provided a lovely seasonal setting for the double ring rites performed by Monsignor W. McKenzie.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of starched white lace over taffeta. The bouffant skirt flared from a molded bodice featuring a high scalloped neckline and lily-point sleeves fastened with miniature lace covered buttons. A cathedral veil of nylon illusion, formerly worn by the bride's sister at her wedding, misted from a lace pill-box dusted with sequins and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of bright red poinsettias and a rosary, an heirloom belonging to the groom's family.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Dennis Sauer of Ann Arbor, Michigan, and Miss Kathy Archibald, as her attendants, chose frocks styled identically of shot taffeta fashioned in the princess mode with scoop neckline, cut low in back from which a panel flowed in graceful folds to the hemline. The hair bandeaux matching their gowns were trimmed with white fur pompons to match their tiny white fur muffs. A single red poinsettia with red tulle was worn on each muff.

Dennis Jeffrey of Penticton was best man, while the ushers were Bill Johnston also of this city, and Mark Kelley, brother of the bride. The young couple left the church to the tune of "Bonnie Dundee" played on the bagpipes by Bill Haskett and David Davies of the Penticton Pipe Band of which the groom is a member. A reception followed in the Aberdeen Room at the Royal Anne Hotel where the toast to the bride was proposed by Frank Morton, while Dr. T. F. Farmlley toasted the groom's parents on the occasion of their 27th wedding anniversary and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Bellmond, on their third anniversary.

Mrs. W. J. Archibald and Mrs. H. W. Arbuckle presided at the reception table centred with a beautifully decorated three tier wedding cake, which was cut by the young couple with a sword formerly belonging to the groom's late uncle, Captain F. E. Boultee.

Among those assisting in serving the guests were Miss Linda Gherzi, Miss Sally Turton, Miss Margaret McCormick and Mrs. J. Burnhill.

For travelling on a honeymoon trip to Vancouver, Seattle and other State centres, the bride chose a coat of camel's hair cloth worn over a bottle green velvet dress. Her matching hat was accented by black accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Boultee have taken up residence in Penticton.

Laundry-Day Hints For January Weather

A young Penticton resident has two laundry-day hints which she feels may be very helpful to other housewives during this period of cold January weather.

She drops her clothespins into a strong solution of salt water before using them to hang out the laundry and through this simple method has found that the clothes do not stick to the line. She also passed along another hint; apply rubbing alcohol thoroughly to the hands before hanging out or bringing in the clothes from the line. This keeps her hands warm in any cold weather.

Chiefs Chopped

Kamloops Chiefs were robbed of an Okanagan senior hockey league victory when league officials took away two points they earned Jan. 8, and gave the points to Vernon.

OSHL executive said the Chiefs used suspended defence-man Fred Sasakmoose during the game, despite orders that he be benched until the Canadian amateur hockey association clears his status.

Chiefs won the game 5-1.

Lowe So High He Threatens Warwick Mark

Vernon hockey fans sit in their seats these days and sing "It's a beautiful sight to see" when their high-flying centre, Odie Lowe, scores goal after goal.

But down on the ice, the hockey players mumble "why could it not happen to you and me."

LOWE's philosophy is: Be in the right place at the right time and it'll happen to you and me.

The Vernon centre was in the right place eight times this past week to raise his point total to 81, seventeen more than his closest competitor John Millard of Kamloops.

He needs only 12 goals to break Bill Warwick's OSHL record of 54 netted pucks.

CANADIANS' playing coach George Agar listened to Lowe's teaching instead of preaching it and promptly went out and scored 10 points to raise his total to 50. He's in a sixth-place tie with our own Walt Peacosh.

Along with Peacosh, Pentiction's representation in the scoring list includes Gerry Leonard in fifth place, two points ahead of Peacosh, Fairburn in 11th place with 42 points and the league's highest-scoring defenseman Hal Tarala tied in 19th place with 30 points.

After Kelowna goalie Dave Gatherum absorbed a 12-6 loss against Vernon Friday night, it looked like Vees' Ivan McLelland might widen his average but a 10-3 whollop from Canadians the following night sort of killed those happy thoughts.

With two games left before he retires, McLelland's hopes for a second place standing in the goal-keeper's individual statistics are also just about out the door.

Hospitality Not For Vees

Pentiction Earns Packers Shutout

It was an infringement on our hospitality, that's what it was.

The Vees return a visit to Kelowna, a country which isn't even fit for the Eskimos and they turn around and beat us 5-0.

But as playing coach Hal Tarala said, "We pressed the Packers but we just couldn't shoot straight. And, what made it worse, we had a tough time clearing the puck around our net."

Packers' Joe Kaiser was the first man to infringe as he took a pass from Jim Middleton and with the help of some stray skates and Ivan McLelland's leg, trickled the puck into the net.

Early in the second period, Packers power play went into action with Vees' Kev Conway in the sin bin for elbowing.

The pros have their eyes on our boys. Centre Gerry Leonard is the latest of the Pentiction Vees to move up to the Western hockey league for a tryout.

Leonard left for New Westminster Royals, where he'll play one game before returning to Pentiction for Friday's Ivan McLelland night.

Leonard, the Vees top point-getter, is a Detroit Red Wings chattel and the Royals are a Wings' farm club.

Moe Young took a pass from Mike Durban and with only McLelland to beat, the Packer left wing slapped the disc between the pipes, off McLelland's pads. (Ivan's second Packer assist.)

Twenty-two seconds later, Bill Swarbrick and Greg Jablonski caught the Vees without a defense again making good another counter. Jabbo drove it in to take Swarbrick's rebound and fire it in.

Vees held control of the puck for most of the remaining second period but their shooting couldn't hit the broad side of a barn door.

With only 2:42 of the final period gone, Durban took a behind-the-net pass from Young as he whirled in on the Pentiction net. Result: 4-0 for the unshippable Packers.

With only three minutes left, Packers combined their slick passing with another of their rushes to blink the red light for goal number five.

Kaiser, on the end of a three-man passing play with Middleton and Swarbrick, crossed in front of the Vees' net and backhanded the puck in behind McLelland.

Seriously, the people of Kelowna were very hospitable in that they gave a tremendous standing ovation to Vees' goalie Ivan McLelland for his last game on Kelowna ice.

Although Kelowna controlled the scoring, the Vees had the edge in shots on goal 37-24.

However, if the referees knew how to blow a whistle, Pentiction would have had the edge in penalties, too. But as it went, five Packers got the thumb to two Pentiction loemen.

Late, Late News

BOSTON — Goaler Terry Sawchuk has been suspended from hockey for life for refusing to show up at a Boston Bruins practice, coach Milt Schmidt announced today.

Sawchuk quit the Bruins yesterday claiming his nerves were shaky, but was ordered to report to practice and to a doctor. He didn't.

WHAT ELSE IS NEW?

IN BOSTON, goaler Terry Sawchuk startled the hockey world by pulling an Ivan McLelland — he quit the Boston Bruins. Claimed he was nervous and his timing was off as a result of his recent attack of mononucleosis. Coach Milt Schmidt and owner Walter Brown called up goaler Norm DeLille to fill in till they could talk Terry back.

IN MONTREAL, to add a touch of irony, Sawchuk was chosen first-string goaler in the first-half balloting for the NHL all-star team, with Detroit's Glen Hall second. Canadians goaler Jacques Plante, who has had the best shots-to-goals average all year and the least goals scored against him, didn't make the team.

IN NEW YORK, the National boxing association stripped Sandy Saddler of his featherweight world championship last night because he hadn't defended his title since Jan. 20, nearly a year.

IN EUROPE, Russia's brutality in Hungary is affecting athletes. Only Sweden and Finland will represent the western world in the 1957 hockey championships, all other countries having withdrawn. Belgium, Italy, Fortugal, West Germany and Sweden have also cancelled scheduled matches against the Russians in soccer, skating, chess and other sports.

IN LOS ANGELES, Ted Williams' personal manager Fred Corcoran said baseball's most controversial player since Jackie Robinson is "in great shape" even at 38, won't retire next spring and will probably sign with Boston Red Sox for $100,000.

ALSO IN LOS ANGELES, welterweight boxer Art Aragon was indicted by the county jury on charges of trying to fix a fight scheduled in Texas. The fixing, it is alleged, occurred in California. Aragon offered opponent Dick Goldstein $500 to "take a dive."

IN VANCOUVER, the B.C. Lions football club confirmed that former Calgary and Montreal lineman Herb Capozzi, a 31-year-old, native of some obscure town up the Okanagan Valley, has been hired as Lions' general manager.

IN MELBOURNE, Australian Ken Rosewall beat world pro tennis champion Pancho Gonzales 7-5, 6-4, 14-12, to even their four series at one game each.

ENOUGH ELK MEAT to last a year is displayed by these three lucky hunters, who each bagged an elk in one morning of searching. From left to right they are Bob Gowan, Salmon Arm; Frank Leslie, Eagle Bay, and Vince Singer, Pentiction.

What's This? Still Here?

And so, for the fourth time within a month or so, Pentiction Vees have been unable to win the one game that could have brought them out of the cellar.

Tied for the bottom with Kelowna Packers, before last night's game, the Vees went down to a 5-0 shutout and found themselves all alone in the basement again.

Vernon Canadians, as usual, continued to win by beating Kamloops Chiefs 4-2. And the miserable standings stand:

Carry A Fan In A Caravan

Pentiction hockey, Vees' executives told a general meeting Monday, is still in a "touchy" situation. But team directors were confident that things would get better.

The meeting, after discussing the team's financial, transportation, and other problems, gave the directors a full vote of confidence.

FINANCIAL watchdog, Tommy Osborne reported that the Vees needed to pull at least 100 more fans to every game to make their operating expenses of $1,666 a game.

The slack period that comes every year around Christmas and New Year's is over and the gate should steadily increase from now on, he said.

But Philcox suggested a caravan to pick up fans who would like to come to the games but don't have transportation. A sort of "caravan-fan."

HE WAS promptly picked up by the executive to organize one in co-operation with the Vees-booster club.

The suggestion followed explanations by the executives that a chartered bus wasn't financially feasible and the "Give-a-fan-a-lift" movement wasn't workable.

Only one family telephoned the Vees to ask for transportation during the short-lived movement, "Fan-of-the-week" plan and remarked that it's main purpose is boosting the gate.

Some 300 more booster tickets need to be sold, he said.

The booster club thinks it will be able to turn over about $1,200 to the Vees if all tickets are sold.

GLADY PARKER's transportation committee reported it still had trouble lining up cars for

What If They Don't Own Freezers?

Just a week ago, a couple of Vernon hunters came down to Naramata for the newly-reopened deer and elk season and went home with plenty of complaints and nothing else.

Their main complaint was that there weren't any deer or elk in the first place, that boundaries of the hunting area were only vaguely defined, and that there were not any game department officials around to guide them.

As a sequel to this story, we find that Vince Singer of Pentiction, Frank Leslie of Eagle Bay and Bob Gowan of Salmon Arm went off, into the woods early Monday morning.

Without any game officials to guide them, they found, in three hours (a) the vaguely defined boundaries and within them (b) two elk herds, numbering 21 animals in all.

At noon, they were posing for the picture above.

QHL Quebec Aces beat Trois-Rivieres Lions 4-2 and Chicoutimi Saguenens tied Shawinigan Falls Cataracts 1-1, putting the Aces one point behind league-leading Chicoutimi and 12 ahead of Trois-Rivieres.

Boys Beating Veterans In Pentiction Bonspiel

Day by day, the list of undefeated teams in Pentiction's second annual sweepstakes bonspiel dwindles.

By this morning, the list was down to three teams and the surprising thing about it all is that one of those teams consists of a collection of kids.

Garry Hackman's Pentiction high school rink, which will represent this town in the B.C. provincial school curling playoffs, downed veteran Harry Hines this morning for its fourth straight victory.

The kids are alive in both the two primary events for the W. R. Cranna and Inland Natural gas trophies.

They've won one game in the Cranna and three in the Inland.

The other two unbeaten aggregations are Tim Odell's Pentiction crew and Les Harper's Quesnel men.

Bill Carse, whose rink was eliminated during the weekend from the B.C. regional Brier playoffs, stayed undefeated in the Cranna section with three wins but was dropped from the Inland event.

Some $4,000 worth of prizes are up for grabs in the six-event spiel that will last until Saturday.

Rinks from as far away as the hinterlands of West Vancouver and Terrace are entered, along with a strong representation from the Okanagan.

In this morning's action:

Odell defeated E. Caughlin, Oliver.

Harper defeated Al Kenyon, Pentiction.

Gerry Hallquist, West Summerland, defeated C. McKilligan, West Summerland.

And Hackman, of course, beat Hines.

All this action was in the Inland natural gas event. Last night, in the same event, R. C. Power of Pentiction beat fellow Pentictionite Cec Watson.

Outside Temperature Bothers Fans, But Doesn't Cool Off Hot Canadians

VERNON — The Vernon Canadians extended their league lead to 12 points in Vernon Tuesday when they took the Kamloops Chiefs over the hurdles 4-2.

A home town crowd of less than 1,400 braved the sub-zero weather. The game was wide open from the opening whistle to the final buzzer with referee Lloyd Gilmour of Pentiction handing out only five minor penalties.

PLAYING COACH George Agar led his Canadians by setting up the first goal and scoring the clincher with less than 30 seconds to play in the final period. The Canadians were the first to hit the score board as Sherman Blair sank a close-in shot taking a double relay from Agar and Mark Marquess. Canadians were in on the Kamloops goal time after time but that disc just would not end up in the net.

Art Davison made it 2-0 for Vernon just before the first period ended.

Bill Hryciuk of the Chiefs finally broke the shutout when he beat goaler Hal Gordon at the 13-minute mark of the middle frame.

GOING INTO the final stanza holding a 2-1 lead, the Canadians continued to put on the pressure but Jim Shirley in the Kamloops net was just unbeatable. Odie Lowe finally beat Shirley to put the Canadians ahead 3-1, but at the 16 minute mark Buddy Evans made it 3-2 on passing play with Bob Dawes and John Millard.

Both teams then played wide open hockey, looking for the breaks, with Agar finally taking a pass on his red line to go in home free on Shirley and, after pulling him out of the net, he dumped the puck home with only 28 seconds to play.

Shots on goal told the story—Vernon 42, Kamloops 19.

Lund, Zibin Lead Penticton Team In Massacre Of Kelowna Midgets

After a one-period breather, Larry Lund broke loose for four goals and one assist to lead Penticton's midget all-stars to a 12-4 crushing of Kelowna this week.

John Zibin sank two goals and picked up one assist to help the Pentictonites take the lead in the inter-city midget league.

THE BEST of the goals were evenly divided by Murray Dean, Larry Hale, Reg Dunham, Steve Tomlin, Al Richards and Larry O'Connell.

Kelowna's Dale Tellman scored two goals for his team, and Don Culley and Bruce Kitch one each. Kitch fired his 55 seconds after the second period opened to shatter Penticton goaler Bill Loughheed's shutout.

Penticton jumped off to a 3-0 first period lead and Lund's two goals in the second put them ahead 5-1 at the end of the second.

NOTHING could stop the budding Vees in the third period as they scored goals less than two minutes apart on three different occasions.

Just to change the subject, here are some flurges released by the bantam hockey league, showing leading scores and goals.

No Action Taken By City Council On Anti-Smoke Bylaw

Penticton's anti-smoke bylaw, temporarily left in abeyance last year, was brought forward at Monday night's council meeting. But no immediate action was taken on it.

Alderman E. A. Titchmarsh stated that the Vancouver measure, which had been passed some time ago, was just being brought into force. He suggested that local bylaw be tabled for another month and then be studied into further before being finalized.

Request For Road Extension Received

Application of George Angliss for an extension of a road adjacent to his property was received by city council Monday night.

Mr. Angliss said he has sold part of his orchard property through which he formerly had access.

In discussion, it was stated there is another right of way though not improved, that can be made to serve the property. The problem was referred to the city engineering department for recommendation.

Canadians Tie For Fifth Time In Bantam Loop

Everyone finds it hard to beat the Canadians in the Penticton bantam league, but no one has any trouble tying them.

The Canadians, the league's most tied-up team, battled to their fifth deadlock this week when they scored five goals against the Blackhawks and let five go by themselves.

Coupled with the Rangers' 5-2 victory over the Red Wings, the tie prevented the Hawks from getting back into the first place they lost to Rangers last week.

IN THE other game, the Bruins blanked the bottom-team Maple Leafs 6-0.

Dale Hamilton shot a hat-trick to lead the Black Hawks in their 5-5 tie with Canadians. George Wharton and Morley Morgan scored the others.

For the Canadians, Morley Hays and Lorne Tomlin scored two goals each and Vic Klaringe one.

PAIRS OF goals were also racked up by Brian Macdonald and Doug King in the Rangers-Red Wings game. Howie McNeil scored the other Rangers goal while Bob Callin and Russ Specht scored the only two Red Wings markers.

Gil Goodman rapped in two of the Bruins five goals and Eldon Peacock, Dave Wilson and Kent Martin one apiece while the mute Maple Leafs made no reply.

Standings now are:

Black Hawks	5	3	3	13
Red Wings	5	5	1	11

Money Tree Grows At Osoyoos Spiel

Where a $1,500 sum is concerned, nobody is going to wait around and lose the chance to pocket the thick wad of greenbacks.

With two weeks to go before entries close for the Osoyoos International bonspiel, the quota has been filled and eight rinks have been turned down.

The three day spiel which gets underway on Jan. 25, includes rinks from Vancouver, Chilliwack, Trail, Kamloops, Princeton, Copper Mountain, Summerland, Penticton, Ashcroft, Hope, Vernon, Midway, Grand Forks, and Oroville, Wash.

Seven rinks are entered from the home club. Limited to 40 rinks, $1,500 and four trophies will be the target for the many big name curlers (and the little ones, too.)

STILL TRYING NEW YORK — Jockey John (Red) Pollard, who rode the famous race horse Seabiscuit to many major victories, announced today he will make a comeback.

Pollard, 46, quit riding after being severely injured in 1945.

COACH CAUGHT SACRAMENTO — Chuck Stevens, veteran first baseman and minor league manager, has been named playing coach of the Pacific coast baseball league's Sacramento Solons.

Briggs Believes Beating Bowlers Best Both Ways

Bill Briggs isn't one of those fussy types. He'll win at any sort of bowling.

Tuesday, Briggs wound up as the owner of the men's high triple of 524 in the 10-pin league, and winner of the high single and high triple in the mixed five-pin league.

His scores there were 348 and 722. The mixed league featured all double winners.

Cis Kloster took the women's single and triple honors with scores of 259 and 689 while the Wilcox-Hall team rolled up single-game and three-game totals of 1,109 and 3,075 to lead the field.

In the 10-pin league, high single winner was Frank Vader with a 195. Team honors went to McCune motors with a single of 638 and the Head Pins with a triple of 1,803.

Prizes in the senior city mixed league also went every which way. Stella Swift won the women's single with 276 and Pat Warr the triple with 612.

George Samos was the best of the men with 272 — not quite as good as the best woman — and Tom Pringle rolled 754 for the best men's triple.

Gazelles racked up the best team single — 1,151 — and Bar Files the best triple — 3,161.

War Rages In Hoop Arena

From the basketball battlefield comes this note of enthusiasm. Kenos claimed they outsell the Omegas every time when it comes to selling tickets. The remark didn't go over too well with Barry Ashley of the Omegas, who retorted that the Omegas will sell more tickets to the net two league games than Kenos.

The tickets, on sale now, enable the purchaser to have a chance on the $150 Omega wheel to be drawn for on February 2.

Kenos' Dennis Jeffery claims manager Marlene Almas will outsell any player on either team. (A man submitting to the power of a woman?)

Penticton Omegas will renew their battle with the Curlew air base squad to-night when they meet in the Republic, Wash., high school gym at 8:30 p.m.

Omegas have won the only two games between those clubs.

Don Marshall's bantams and midgets will travel to Osoyoos for two games starting at 7:30 tonight.

Osoyoos junior teams will not play in Penticton Saturday evening as the Kamloops bantams are slated for a game at Pen-hi gym.

Rutland high school girls moved in to a just place with the Kelowna Teddy Bears following a 21-20 win over the Orchard city crew last night.

Kelowna Jaycees Learn About U.S. "Safe Teen Group"

KELOWNA — Guest speaker of Kelowna Junior Chamber of Commerce, at their dinner meeting in the Royal Anne Hotel, last week was George Northan, manager of B.C. Fruit Growers Mutual Hall Insurance.

Mr. Northan spoke on the forming of Safe-Teen, a safe-driving organization for young persons.

This is an organization for drivers, aged 16 to about 25, set up to institute safe driving practices.

Safe-Teen was founded in Beaverton, Oregon in December, 1954, and within a year had spread to 42 of the 48 states and into Canada and France. There are no dues or costs, and if a member violates any serious traffic law, in the U.S., the judge has the right to suspend the Safe-Teen membership. In Canada, however, magistrates cannot do this, so it is done by a membership committee.

ADULT ADVICE — It is not sponsored by adults, but needs adult organization to get the movement underway, and once this is done, it is left to the drivers with an adult administrator to settle problems, but who has no part in the mechanics of the group.

One U.S. traffic court reports that since Safe-Teen was organized, there was a 66 per cent drop in traffic mishaps — not only a financial saving, but also in mental anguish.

Qualifications for joining are basically this: The licensee holder must have his car checked by a reputable mechanic or garage, and must present a certificate from the mechanic to the membership committee before membership is approved.

MAKE OWN RULES — Members of the organization make their own rules, and in the case of Kelowna, would operate on a city-wide basis, and could encompass the outlying districts such as Rutland, Okanagan Mission.

Mr. Northan pointed out that if a group such as Safe-Teen were organized, members could readily procure driving instruction and information without cost to members.

The speaker said the way to start such a group would be to have conferences with the police, schools, civic officials, truckers association and other automotive groups, and also to appoint an administrator to give advice.

This matter was tabled, as the meeting thought there was too much work to do with the Jaycee convention here in June.

Counselling Team Finds Students Do Not Emigrate

There is a definite trend away from Canadian students wanting to migrate to the United States and a strong inclination to associate with Canadian industry.

This encouraging news was revealed by R. B. Carpenter, works manager of the Canadian Industries Ltd., explosives plant at James Island, B.C., and R. D. Bevan, commercial manager of the company's development department, Montreal, after they interviewed more than 100 students at the University of British Columbia.

The recruiting team reported a highly successful four days interviewing students at UBC.

Both members of the team were enthusiastic over the high rating of intelligence of the students interviewed.

STUDENTS NOT NERVOUS — They found that the Western students were extremely frank and devoid of nervousness, as is often the case in interviews.

Contrary to accepted opinion the young students did not appear too much concerned with such matters as pension plans, insurance and assurances of future security. Both Carpenter and Bevan found that the majority were more interested in the challenge to learn and to get ahead in a growing company.

Encouraging Progress Reports Highlight Local Red Cross Meet

An outstanding year of activities was experienced in 1956 by Penticton branch, Canadian Red Cross Society, according to reports read at the annual meeting of the branch Monday night.

Included in its achievements for the year was the record enrollment of 1,079 in Rotary-Red Cross swim classes — the largest enrollment of any B.C. centre — organization of disaster relief services to such an extent that the local Red Cross by February will be ready for any emergency, and raising of $961 in funds from elementary school students for work of the Junior Red Cross.

The annual meeting, held in the Red Cross centre on Main street, was well attended. Acting as chairman was J. G. Murdoch, chairman of the blood donor clinic. A. K. W. Fraser, reported that two successful clinics were held and that both topped the quota of 1000 pints.

In May, a total of 1,015 pints was obtained and in November, 1,036 pints.

Mrs. L. Traviss, R.N. director of home nursing, reported that of the 10 members enrolled for the spring course, seven had completed their lessons with good standing.

The meeting received with regret the resignation of Mrs. Traviss.

On Junior Red Cross re-organization in the high school, Mrs. J. W. Assay said that membership in the grade 7 classes had jumped from seven to 20. The junior group, she added, has held a candy sale and is currently working on quilt and Afghan blocks.

The report of D. P. O'Connell on activities of the Junior Red Cross in the elementary school brought hearty congratulations from the meeting.

During 1956, he revealed, a sum of $961 had been raised by youngsters attending the Carmi avenue, Queen's park, Primary and Jermyn avenue schools.

Chief beneficiary of this contribution was the crippled children's hospital in Vancouver.

Breakdown of the pupils' donations was as follows: Carmi school: $150 in funds sent to the Red Cross head office, $85 as March of Dimes donations; Queen's Park school: $86 to the head office, $110 for March of Dimes; Primary and Jermyn schools: $325 to the head office, and $400 to March of Dimes.

Mrs. W. S. Reeder submitted her 15th annual report as work committee chairman paying tribute to Kaleden, Okanagan Falls and Penticton women for their sewing, knitting work for the Red Cross.

She praised the work of the junior hospital auxiliary, under the direction of Mrs. Wilson Hunt, for making 7,600 dabs and 6,400 wool swabs for the blood transfusion service.

During 1956 there were 996 workers using the work room and cutting 908 articles, making 113 quilts and shipping out 1,092 goods.

Reporting on the Penticton Rotary-Red Cross swim classes, Mrs. Harold Donald told the meeting that the city had the largest enrollment in British Columbia's swim classes. A total of 1,079 students took lessons under the direction of supervisor Chloe Cardinall. Full time instructors were Laurene Hawkins, Brenda Booth, Maureen Clark, Marilyn English, Edna Tribe and Gloria Finch.

The Rotary Club and Penticton Parks Board, it was reported, had cooperated to the full extent.

Loan cupboard chairman, Mrs. D. M. Deacon, R.N., in her 1956 review, said there were 31 sick room articles loaned. She tendered her resignation, which the meeting accepted with regret.

DISASTER COMMITTEE
A. A. Shipton reported on the re-organized disaster relief committee. He indicated that heads of all subcommittees have been appointed and that they are currently busy organizing their own groups so that by February this committee will be completely ready for any emergency.

Building administrator J. Pettley told the meeting that the Red Cross centre had been used to the fullest extent possible throughout 1956. In addition to being used by the Red Cross branch, the centre was employed by various women's organizations, Boy Scouts auxiliary, SPCA, St. John's Ambulance and the department of health and welfare for baby clinics.

Mr. Pettley is acting as one of the branch's representatives on the new health centre building committee. Mrs. C. M. Finnis handled the scheduling of meetings held by the many city groups in the Red Cross centre.

Mrs. H. Corbett outlined the 1956 activities of the Kaleden group. A total of 146 articles were knitted and seven by the Kaleden group. Also completed were eight quilts. Forty-three donors of blood from Kaleden registered at the local clinics, and $258 was collected during the 1956 drive for Red Cross funds. Kaleden Junior Red Cross collected $18 at their annual open house day.

Reporting on the work of the Okanagan Falls group Major Hugh Frazer noted that $218 had been collected in the fund drive in that area. Also eight quilts were made and the Junior red cross was active.

Treasurer for the Penticton branch, R. H. Beckett, said that the March campaign for funds had raised $6,339, consisting of 1,924 donations.

Donations to the Canadian Hungarian Relief fund, raised through courtesy of the local banks, amounted to $198. Mr. Beckett reminded Red Cross members that the banks will still accept donations.

W. H. Gerwing and F. H. Herbert outlined the 1956 campaign for funds and paid tribute to the role of the Red Cross in the community.

Prior to election of officers, the meeting expressed deep-felt appreciation for the work of E. Watson as custodian of the Red Cross centre.

J. G. Murdoch was named local delegate to the provincial Red Cross conference which will be held in Vancouver during February.

After electing branch officers, the meetings closed with the serving of refreshments by members of the SPCA.

New Traffic Lights Proposed
Penticton may possibly have not one, but three new sets of traffic lights in the city, before the year is out, it was indicated at Monday night's city council meeting.

The first set would be at the Martin street-Nanaimo avenue crossing. A further set for Winnipeg street and Eckhardt avenue had been considered as location for traffic signals, due to the crossing there of two opposing, traffic lanes, similar to the Westminster-Winnipeg intersection.

The city will have to pay the cost of the Nanaimo-Martin traffic lights, which may cost about $2,000. The provincial highway department will be approached about sharing in or paying for the set at Winnipeg-Westminster but no decision on the Winnipeg-Eckhardt set has so far been reached. As Eckhardt is an alternate to Westminster for Highway 97, although not now gazetted as such, the need for the lights has been indicated.

The provincial authorities will be asked for provision of a foot-path along Highway 97 between Green avenue and Skaha lake (Skaha Lake Road), estimated cost of which is $1,500.

They will also be approached on easing of the sharp corner on the Naramata secondary highway at Munson Mountain. Cost of this project is estimated at $3,000.

SPCA Plans Poster Contest

High school students will have a chance to enter a poster contest early next spring.

The local branch of the SPCA decided at its regular Wednesday night meeting to investigate the possibilities of such a contest and report to the next meeting when plans will be finalized.

The controversial issue of reliever trials was brought to the attention of the association when a letter from the Vernon SPCA was read. Inspector Tom Swan explained that the shackled ducks were used for bait were dead.

The Red Cross asked if the SPCA Branch would serve refreshments at their annual meeting Jan. 14. Approval of the meeting was given and the members will donate the refreshments. Mrs. M. E. Carter, Mrs. Amy Gillett, Mrs. M. Giraldi, Mrs. E. Serle and Mrs. T. R. Johnson will serve.

Mrs. Fred Smith was appointed auditor.

Inspector T. Swan reported that, from Jan. 2 to Jan. 9, there were eight cats destroyed, one adopted, two inspections, one injured dog cared for but died.

MEAT DELIVERY
SYRACUSE, N.Y., (UP) — Mrs. Christine Cox was startled when an object came hurtling through her apartment window recently. But she was even more startled when she took a look at the missile — a pound of frozen hamburger.

AT THE annual meeting of the Western Division, Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, B. M. Hoffmeister, chairman of the board, MacMillan and Bloedel Limited, was elected chairman of the executive committee for 1957. He succeeds R. H. R. Young, executive vice-president, Crown Zellerbach Canada Limited.

Council Studies Water Licence

Application of K. W. Keefe for a water licence, permitting him to draw 250 gallons per day from Skaha Lake, was referred by the B.C. Water Rights Branch to city council.

While it was agreed that the plan would have no effect on the city's own proposal to pump water from Skaha, council pointed out that the question of whether this application is to be a conditional or final licence should be decided. A conditional licence can run for even continuously for many years, but a final licence would be difficult to revoke should conditions change, council agreed.

Council To Consider Centennial Finances

Financial arrangements for a permanent type of memorial to commemorate the B.C. Centennial and this city's fiftieth anniversary will be studied by city council this week.

No final plans for the type of permanent memorial have been made.

A letter from the local centennial committee suggested that a tentative amount be set up before further work is carried out.

Council members agreed that it would be useless to set a mark of $100,000 when only $10,000 might be available. It was first suggested that the finance committee recommend a sum for the project, but Alderman E. A. Titchmarsh, chairman of that committee, said that the council should declare itself before any final arrangement is made.

Two key projects have been linked to the centennial and Golden Jubilee. One concerns a history of Penticton, which R. N. Atkinson has been approached to prepare. Alderman J. G. Harris had been authorized to finalize the matter.

The other project that has been given consideration by both the committee and council concerns the establishment of a permanent museum in the city. Some groups have favored a combination of museum-library, others have spoken for the museum alone.

Civic Employees To Help Local Veterans With Casual Labor

Penticton civic employees have followed through with their plan to aid veterans with casual labor. They approved of the idea last year, following a suggestion from the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

At Monday night's council meeting the civic employees' union forwarded a letter they had received from the local branch of the Canadian Legion, concerning veterans who would be eligible for this part-time employment. The list covered only four names, which will be kept on file at city hall and used as occasion arises.

Such employment may be for only part-days or for such time as these veterans can, without injury to health, withstand.

All those named in the local Legion letter are senior veterans who are unable to work on full-time jobs.

Council Declines Building Purchase

The land sales committee of city council has recommended against purchase of the Stewart-Warner building, it was reported to council on Monday night.

In making the report, Alderman E. A. Titchmarsh said it was felt that the building would not be suitable for city requirements, even with extensive alterations.

INTERIM BUDGET

soon as possible how far to proceed with a number of projects. The additional month on the interim basis will mean that many of these projects will have been carried almost to completion by the time the period ends. Practically as much care will have to be spent in consideration of the interim report as the final one, because it will have a major influence on the ultimate financial picture and tax level of the city.

Hope of the finance committee is that it can be finalized a week from Monday. This will clear the way for preparation of final estimates.

In presenting the budget, City Treasurer H. W. Cooper stated that it is quite possible the program as presented is in excess of available city labor. This could not be checked, he stated, as capital or major expenditures of public works department had not been supported with cost breakdown. These would be arranged before the final budget is prepared.

ELECTRICAL OUTLAY

The electrical department shows practically four times the capital outlay for the four-month period of 1957 compared to the first three months of 1956. The reason: Allan Amundsen, city electrical engineer, stated that he wants to carry out the 1957 portion of the switch-over from delta to wye system early in the year.

Approximately $25,000 is being spent on this one item alone, and represents almost all that is being put into it during the present year. Total capital outlay for the four months is $44,245. A year ago, it was $11,429.

By getting the work done early, the crews will be free for other major line work, or minor extensions that may come up during the year.

Similarly, with the board of works committee, the capital portion of the program has been increased. Capital outlay is estimated at $115,050. A year ago it was $31,000. The three major items covered are Penticton creek, $12,700; street grading and drainage, $19,975; storm sewers and catch basins, $10,000.

As with the electrical department, the major work placed underway early in the year is expected to result in a saving to the city. It will also free crews for other projects, such as sidewalk and paving which can more satisfactorily be done in the warmer months.

The domestic water department is also sharing in this speed-up plan. The capital work has been upped from $15,110 spent in 1956 to an estimated $45,600. A total of $37,550 has been provided as estimate for expenditures on new mains during the first four months of the year. A year ago only $12,442 was spent on new water mains, with many projects carried into the later months of the year as a result.

Capital expenditures by the irrigation department are set up as $6,400. A year ago it was $14,420, representing additional pipeline work.

Some minor adjustments of the interim budget and alterations or deletions may yet be forthcoming, but it is not expected there will be any drastic changes. By the time the four month period of this year has elapsed, some items cited may not be carried out at all, or remain incomplete. They will be noted in the final budget of the year, and, if at all possible, will be carried forward into the ultimate budget.

Legality Of New Water Bylaw Is Questioned

OSOYOOS — Councillors were advised last week that the new water system extension bylaw's legality has been questioned by the Inspector of Municipalities.

An error in the date advertised for voting on the plebiscite was inadvertently made. It was realized after the date had been set that the bylaw could not receive the required 10 days from publication, although the time requirement was met by the council when the polling date was set.

When this was realized, Village Clerk Stratton obtained six copies and posted them at strategic places within the village.

The inspector gave the village the choice of holding a new plebiscite or paying for an enquiry. Council chose the latter.

An amendment giving a $25 salary increase to both the clerk and village foreman was passed and will be made effective March 1.

The clerk received a new calculator that was recently ordered. An order was placed with a local firm for six new council chairs.

It was also reported that council was still waiting for West Kootenay Light and Power Co. to install six new street lights requested some months ago.

Local Unitarians To Study Divinity Of Jesus Christ

Local Unitarians met at the home of Noel Barry last Sunday and took part in a program prepared and presented by Kay Haverger.

This included readings from Kahlil Gibran's "The Prophet" and a group discussion of the subject which had been introduced at the previous meeting — "After Death — What?"

The next discussion topic, to be considered January 20, will be "Jesus — God, Man or Myth?" A number of excerpts from sermons by ministers of various faiths will be read aloud, presenting views ranging from the belief that Christ is the Divine Son of God to the statement that Jesus never actually existed.

Members will present their own opinions at next Sunday's meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fenger, Skaha lake. Anyone interested in attending may phone Paul Fenger at 2014.

Pritchard Manager Of BPI Local Office

Dudley Pritchard of Kelowna will manage the new local office of the British Pacific Insurance company here with a territory extending from Keremeos to Oliver and the Kootenays.

Mr. Pritchard, the son of Mrs. R. A. Pritchard of Westbank, graduated from Ridley college and after managing his mother's orchards, he left last November to join the staff of British Pacific in Kelowna.

of the agency do not reveal the amount of fruit re-shipped. This, Mr. Duncan felt, was an instance where the board is withholding information from the growers. "That is why there is distrust within the organization," he said. "Mr. Laird agreed that the explanations of pooling returns are 'absolutely abominable' and termed it one of the 'weak links'."

Herb Corbishley believes that the proposed boost was justifiable, but there are numerous other levies, such as advertising, which are inflexible and "get no break."

He desired that the rest of these charges be investigated and "brought out."

Mr. Morris felt that the main issue on the proposed convention resolution was "somewhat confused" in the debate, and said that the board's levy dealt only with the sales effort, not advertising.

John Glass declared that the 4c does not go directly to the board of governors, but that there is "just a scramble" for funds by the various Kelowna agencies.

He urged the agencies to use the same "philosophy" used by growers in running their orchards, that of cutting expenses and charges in short years.

Discussion concluded with Mr. Laird asserting "We've got a royal commission, let's lay it on the line."

Lakeside W.A. Officers Elected

SUMMERLAND — Officers of the Lakeside W.A. elected at the January meeting held at the home of Mrs. Vern Charles are as follows: President, Mrs. Max McKechnie; secretary, Mrs. Jack Ralcock; treasurer, Mrs. Wm. Barnes.

The W.A. plans to hold a Valentine Tea on Saturday, February 9, in the United Church Hall, West Summerland, an annual custom.

Miss Mary Scott will continue as convener of the committee for the sick and Mrs. Herb Pohlmann will be the press secretary.

Changes In Police Warning Light In City To Be Made

Changes will be made in the police warning light at the junction of Westminster avenue and Main street, council announced Monday.

Police have requested that a second switch be installed, enabling the police office to turn it on, as well as the telephone office.

At the present time newcomers to the city have stated they had confused the light with a traffic signal, Alderman E. A. Titchmarsh reported. A suggestion that the color of the light be changed from red to blue will be considered.

The wheel-shaped Milky Way is so vast that it takes light, travelling at 186,000 miles a second, a hundred thousand years to cross it from rim to rim.

Television Viewing In Summerland Set For September

SUMMERLAND — Roy Chapman, speaking to Summerland board of trade last week, said that Okanagan Television Ltd., of which he is a representative, expects to have good television viewing in Summerland by September of this year. Mr. Chapman outlined the company's plans for TV in the valley.

Annual banquet and presentation of the Good Citizen Cup has been announced for January 31 in the IOOF hall. Guest speaker will be the well-known authority on outdoor life, Dr. Ian McTaggart-Cowan.

The annual meeting and election of officers is scheduled for February 14.

The matter of a breakwater for Summerland will be re-opened with Ottawa by the trade board. The number of small craft used by residents and tourists is large and growing, and a breakwater would be a great asset to them. In similar situation on Okanagan Lake breakwaters have been constructed, it is argued.

Benches may be obtained for the main street for elderly people who might want to rest awhile. This action is being looked into at the suggestion of J. R. Campbell.

IS SPRING COMING?

SUMMERLAND — Whether the six robins seen by J. C. Barkwill in his orchard on Sunday have been here all winter, or whether they are the first signs of spring is not known, but Mr. Barkwill reports them as a welcome sight.

Egypt Seizes Control Of Banks

CAIRO, (UP) — Egypt yesterday seized control of all British and French banks in the country and announced they had been "Egyptianized."

An official announcement said the institutions would be granted "fair compensation" to be worked out by an Egyptian judiciary body.

The nationalization of the financial agencies came with the same suddenness that characterized president Gamal Abdel Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal last July 26.

Shortly after the canal nationalization, Britain and France froze all Egyptian funds in their countries. The United States followed. Egypt recently said it was trying to get the United States to release its funds.

All British and French banking institutions in Egypt were sequestered after the Nov. 5 Anglo-French invasion of Egypt, which prevented them from doing further business.

Actual value of British and French financial agencies in Egypt was not revealed.

However, the semi-official middle east news agency quoted an official source as saying the estimated value of "enemy property" in Egypt was $485,520,000.

The banks were being placed under control of a newly-formed "economic foundation," organized to supervise Egyptian economic development under the personal supervision of Nasser.

The foundation was created by law two days ago and was empowered to establish its own banking, real estate, agricultural and commercial agencies.

The main British banks operating in Egypt were Barclays and the Ottoman banks. Chief French institutions were Credit Lyonnais and Compt de Paris.

The Egyptian seizure proclamation recalled that Egypt had claimed compensation from Britain and France for damage and losses sustained through the Anglo-French and Israeli invasions of Egyptian territory last October and November.

Egypt also had insisted that payments by canal users must be made to the Egyptian canal authority. Britain and France insisted that such payments be made to the nationalized Anglo-French Suez Canal company.

CAPITOL

"Love Me Tender" with rock 'n' roller Elvis Presley will be showing Wednesday to Saturday. Featured in the all-star cast are Richard Egan, Debra Paget and the pelvis himself.

Presley plays the part of a Southern farm boy in the film which relates a tight, suspenseful story of the closing days of the American Civil War. In the cinemascope picture Presley and Egan are shown as brothers who fight to win the love of Miss Paget. Between his scraps Elvis finds time to sing "Love Me Tender," "We're Gonna Move," and "Poor Boy."

FEN-MAR

Showing on Wednesday only is an English technicolor comedy "You Know What Sailors Are."

The side-splitting laughter begins on a navy "night out" when innocent Silvester (Donald Sinden) conceals a brand new weapon which to his amazement blasts an enemy plane out of the sky. From that point enemy agents usher Silvester off to learn his secret and give him "anything he wants to keep him happy," including the veiled entertainment of Arabia.

On the billboard Thursday to Saturday is the spectacular cinemascope film "Comanche," starring Dana Andrews.

It is the story of the last Comanche tribe's war chief and the savagery of these natives who, according to Hollywood, "killed more white men than any other tribe in history."

Kent Smith plays the great Comanche chief, while Dana Andrews is the peace-maker trying to prevent a slaughtering betrayal.

Approval Given To Subdivision

An arrangement permitting the J. Byington subdivision to proceed was announced at Monday night's council meeting. A "hold" on a twenty foot strip of Mrs. M. Davenport's property, to permit any possible egress through to Government street, will be established.

Later, if it is demonstrated that this is not required, it will be wiped out. If it is, then a dedication of the required land will be made.

SODICA Creamery Names Spokesman For Union Dispute

The Board of Directors of SODICA have secured the services of Len Wood of Armstrong as their representative on the labor dispute board of arbitration.

Recently, both dairies, supplying milk to Vernon homes discontinued Thursday deliveries when most stores are closed, and sales usually less. Wednesday milk deliveries in Kelowna and Penticton were discontinued at the same time.

The milk delivery men were paid the same wages for working the five day week, as they had been previously receiving for a six day delivery week.

It would appear to SODICA directors that the Teamsters' Union officials feel this economy measure should not have been taken without their approval. They have therefore notified the dairy farmers' co-op of their arbitration proceedings.

Mr. Wood has considerable experience with labor matters.

For some years he was president of the B.C. School Trustees' association. He is a past president of the Interior Provincial Exhibition association. Mr. Wood has

Costly Collision For Coast Driver

An accident at the corner of Wade avenue and Main street Monday night had a costly aftermath for a Vancouver resident. John Jeffrey was fined $30 in city court yesterday on a charge of careless driving. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

His car came in collision with one of two cars stopping at the traffic light on that intersection. Damage to Jeffrey's vehicle was estimated at $250 and damage to the other car approximately $50.

John Alexander Croft, Sumnerland, was fined $35 in city court this week when he pleaded guilty to a charge of driving without due care and attention.

The accused was reprimanded January 12 after RCMP noticed his vehicle weaving on Highway 97, north of Penticton.

Re-Location Of Gov't Geologists May Benefit City

Minister of mines, Hon. K. W. Kiernan, has informed Penticton board of trade there might be a possibility of a district mining engineer being again established here.

The local trade board in recent months has attempted to convince the minister of the need for such a geologist to meet the needs of prospectors and amateur ore enthusiasts in Penticton and district.

Latest correspondence with the minister reveals that the mining department is considering a re-location of offices for its inspector-resident engineers.

On January 10 the board of trade wrote the minister asking that one of the offices be located in Penticton so that "Penticton and district might be better served."

At present there are seven such offices: in Lillooet, Vancouver, Prince Rupert, Cranbrook, Princeton, Nelson and Fernie. In addition, there is a district petroleum and natural gas engineer at Dawson Creek to meet the needs of geologists in that area.

Trucks Will Carry Airmail

VERNON — Under the name of the Vernon and Penticton Motor Vehicle Service, trucks carrying airmail between the two points were pressed into service Tuesday in an effort to improve delivery to Eastern and Western outlets.

Outgoing airmail will leave Vernon at 12:30 p.m. to catch the 3 o'clock flight at Penticton, making connections with Vancouver at 4 p.m. Dispatch closes at 12 noon.

Incoming mail will be picked up at Penticton at 9:25 a.m. and arrive at Vernon at 11:50 a.m. to be delivered in the afternoon walk.

Two despatches, one for Vancouver city mail and one for Eastern points in Canada will both close at 12 noon in Vernon. This includes all first class and airmail up to eight ounces.

The service will be daily except Sunday.

According to A. E. Lefroy, Vernon postmaster, the new bus service is expected to save up to 20 hours in delivery time between Vernon and Vancouver.

New Handling Scheme Presented To Growers

VERNON — Dr. James Marshall's crusade cry of "Let's Scrap the Bushel Box" rang a bell in the practical and economic belfry of Vernon Fruit Union Growers last week when he came up with a proposal that could keep that bell ringing clear across the Okanagan Valley in an unprecedented reorganization of B.C.'s whole fruit picking and handling industries.

The proposal, which could mean a saving of $61,000 in a year, was set before some 200 growers and packing house officials at a special meeting at Winfield. It was suggested funds allocated for bushel box purchases be used instead to buy 5,000 experimental 50 bushel bins as the first move in re-vamping the fruit industry's handling and picking methods.

The meeting was called by the directors of the Fruit Union to secure approval of the membership to an intensive investigation of all phases of the new handling scheme. Presiding at the meeting was president Vernon E. Ellison, of Oryama, and manager P. K. Wynne, of Vernon, who presented detailed figures.

As the result of a trip made three years ago to New Zealand by Dr. Marshall, details of this new method were brought to B.C. for the first time. Dr. Marshall's prime mission actually was entomology but he became interested in the practices of the growers down under.

Dr. Marshall explained details of the method used and showed slides of actual operations.

Statistics of the proposal indicate a possible outlay of $116,760 for the approximate 278,000 boxes still needed for the coming 1957 crop season.

The figure is based on a 42-cent per box cost.

Purchase of the suggested 5,580 bins of 50 bushel capacity, at $10 per bin, would cost $55,800.

That is a saving of $61,160.

The proposal further suggests that in the years following 1957, that the same procedure as above be followed, and in this manner, as the apple box stock is reduced by shipments to markets, the operation will progressively convert to bulk bins.

Assuming the apple box requirements for 1957 is 800,000, with a value of $252,000, there would be instead: 40,000 apple boxes (being stock used for odd varieties in small quantities, such as vegetables, etc.) at an original cost price of $16,800.

Purchase of 11,200 bulk bins at $10 per bin, would cost a total of $128,000, which means that the value of containers required would be reduced by $123,000.

The proposal further states that packing house operations savings in the first year would work out to one-half cent, apple box basis, applied only to fruit delivered in the bins.

Machinery replacement would be no problem, since no automatic destackers or dumps are presently used by growers.

Warehouse storage space for bins is estimated to be from 60 to 65 percent of that required for an equal amount of fruit in apple boxes.

As for culls, it was hoped that the B.C. Fruit Processors would consider taking delivery in bins but this would not be necessary for two or three seasons from now.

It was felt that growers themselves would be able to adapt bins to their varying requirements.

Considerable loss, due to improperly filled apple boxes will be a thing of the past with the new bins.

And finally, it was estimated that a picker using the bulk bins will pick 50 percent more in the same amount of time, as the same picker using bushel boxes, an important factor to the grower economy.

Valley Fluid Milk Price Up

VERNON — Materially higher prices paid to North Okanagan dairy farmers for December production were announced here last week.

The SODICA organization said that payment for fluid milk shipped last month would reach a record $6 per hundredweight, which is $1.20 per cwt. more than payments made in December, 1955.

Sold as fluid milk was 64 percent of production, higher by one percent than a year ago.

The largest cheque issued to an individual dairy farmer for the month amounted to $1,830.

The $6 rate reflects both the higher retail price and the co-operative's policy of paying above the market in the winter months of high cost production from surpluses accumulated during the late spring flush season, so general manager Everard Clarke said.

Sales of fluid milk during December showed a decline of about ten per cent, Mr. Clarke reported. This is believed to be the direct result of increased prices in effect from the first of the month. Milk now retails at 25 cents per quart home delivery, an increase of two cents over November.

Total paid to member patrons was $34,000 for fluid and an additional $15,000 for churning cream.

Vernon City Assessments Show Big Jump

VERNON — Assessment valuations in Vernon have increased two-and-a-half times since 1948. It was revealed in a report on comparative assessment valuations presented to city council last week by City Assessor G. J. Boer.

Total assessment in 1957 will reach an all-time high of $18,029,342, compared with a total assessment of $7,573,965 in 1948, the report showed. Taxable land values, as reflected in assessment figures, showed a steady increase during the period of from $1,938,640 in 1948 to $2,602,425 in 1957. Biggest increase was in 1956, when a jump of $391,353 over the previous year was recorded.

During the nine years under review taxable improvements rose from $4,079,395 in 1948 to $10,643,190 in 1957, and the total taxable assessment went from $6,018,035 to $13,802,735.

Assessment value of properties exempt from taxation nearly tripled during the nine-year period.

Assessments on tax-exempt land showed a decline from $304,510 in 1948 to $232,185 in 1957, but improvements rose from $1,251,420 to $3,579,895.

Total assessment value of exempted property rose during the period from $1,555,930 to $4,226,607.

Among tax-exempt properties included in the report are schools, federal and provincial buildings and churches.

Fashion Favors Return To Natural Waistline

NEW YORK — It's back to the natural waistline for spring... with your face showing once again under off-the-face hats. The high-waisted Empire look is over and we're moving into the best features of the 1920-1930 era — with the ugly extravagances omitted.

We'll still be ladylike but not as fragile. Belts are back, too, both self and leather, for suits and dresses... and the peg-top skirt is a new fashion trend... the stronger tones of lilac, very pale beige and vivid prints are making a bid for top importance. And there seems to be more navy than usual in recent spring collections, as seen in the Couture Group of the New York Dress Institute during Press Fashion Week... including such well-known names as Cecil Chapman, Pauline Trigere, Hattie Carnegie, Claire McCardell, Ben Relg, Nettie Rosenstein, Oleg Cassini, Dior of New York.

It's a blonde hair season, says Adele Simpson, and meringue beige is featured in her collection in worsteds, tweeds and silks. But beige needs special make-up to give a bright accent to this monotone color, with clear, light bright, red lipstick and rouge and subtle eye make-up.

Capsule notes on what 1957 fashion editors (including 21 Canadian) have seen during the week: suits, soft but slender, with Ben Zuckerman, a pace setter in tailored trends, pointing up both the boyish cutaway line and the straight or semi-fitted jacket... capes from full-length to shoulder effects, with cape back to coats, as featured by Orlinala... the costume look, even to three-piece coat, dress and bolero... Trigere's double tutu flared like a ballerina's skirt jacket costume... and chiffons everywhere for after-five and formal wear... and dotted silks and satin organza, as well as sheer wools for day time. Fashion is certainly saying it softly this spring.

The Recipe Corner

LET'S MAKE OMELETTES

Once you've tried this recipe for Marmalade Omelette, it's possible you will have discovered a brand new favorite luncheon or supper dish. It is light and open in texture, yet has a satisfying character which is partially due to the bread crumbs in partnership with the eggs and cheese. The marmalade filling adds piquancy to this very delightful omelette. Another appealing feature of this Marmalade Omelette, particularly for the amateur cook, is that it shows much less tendency to fall than the stuffy fluffy omelette. But it should be served immediately.

CHEESE MARMALADE OMELETTE

Yield: 3 to 4 servings.
¾ cup coarse soft bread crumbs

½ cup shredded old cheddar cheese
4 eggs
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
¼ cup marmalade

Prepare bread crumbs and shredded cheese. Separate eggs; beat egg yolks with a fork; stir in salt, milk and prepared bread crumbs. Let stand 10 minutes. Meantime, heat a frying pan on range or heat electric pan as directed in pan's direction book. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. (They beat better if at room temperature). Fold shredded cheese into bread mixture, then add beaten egg whites and fold together lightly until egg whites are reduced to size of large marbles. Brush heated pan generously with butter or margarine; turn in omelette mixture and cook slowly, without stirring until set and golden on the bottom. Bake omelette, if pan has a heat-proof handle, in a moderate oven, 350 deg. F., or broil it until top is dry and golden. Slice omelette crosswise, almost through; spread half with marmalade and fold over onto heated platter. Serve at once.

WHOLE WHEAT MUFFINS

4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
½ cup fine granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups whole wheat flour
½ cup lightly packed brown sugar
½ cup chopped walnuts
1 well beaten egg
1¼ cups milk
1½ cup shortening, melted

Grease 18 average-sized muffin pans. Preheat oven to 375 deg. F. (moderately hot). Sift the all-purpose or pastry flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon and granulated sugar together once, then into a bowl. Mix in whole wheat flour, brown sugar and walnuts. Combine egg, milk, melted shortening and vanilla. Make a well in dry ingredients; add liquids, and mix lightly, just until flours are moistened. Three-quarters fill prepared muffin pans with batter. Bake in preheated oven, until cooked and golden — about 20 minutes. Serve hot with butter or margarine.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Don't let yourself be "snowed" by snow, sleet, ice and other vicissitudes of wintertime driving. You can put your wintertime worries "on the skids" by following a few basic safe driving rules.

Here is my list of tried and tested "musts" for safe cold weather motoring:

1. Accept your responsibility to drive without accident. Don't expect Jack Frost to take the blame for a possible accident when you're at the wheel. Such factors as reduced visibility, inadequate traction and temperature changes make the winter months more accident-prone. Visibility is reduced by more hours of darkness, bad weather and coated windshields and windows. Snow, sleet, ice and wetness combine to decrease your car's traction. All too few motorists realize that temperature plays an all-important role in braking distances: as the temperature rises, ice and snow become much more slippery.

2. Get the "feel" of the road by applying brakes while driving slowly and in uncongested areas. Since you cannot stop on an icy dime, adjust your speed to road and weather conditions.

3. Keep your windshield clear of fog, frost, snow and ice. You have to see danger to avoid it, so keep your headlights, windshield wiper blades and defrosters in tiptop condition.

4. Pump your brakes to slow down or stop. Slamming them on can throw you into a skid.

5. Keep well back of the car ahead — giving yourself ample room to stop.

MANY ITEMS MAKE GOOD TABLE DECORATIONS

LINCOLN, Neb., (UP) — Winter may mean an end to garden flowers for centrepieces, but it shouldn't mean an end to attractive, inexpensive table decorations.

Your imagination is the only limit when it comes to making table decorations, according to Mrs. Clara Leopold, University of Nebraska home management specialist.

Everyday objects can be picked up in fields or gardens, or foods that can be eaten later can be used for unusual centrepieces. She suggested using cattails, gourds, corn cobs, bitternests, four o'clock, plumbeous grass, parrot grass, pine cones, evergreens and leaves of all kinds.

Designer Norman Norell, who for the third time this year won the American Fashion Critics Award, said the most significant style innovation in 1956 was the high-waisted dress. Said Norell, "the most talked about major style change was 'my lady fair,' but I don't think it was worn the most."

WEAR PRETTY CLOTHES

One top designer believes women should wear pretty clothes to light up a dark, tense world. Adele Simpson puts the accent on pastel prettiness in her spring collection. She favors sheaths in one-color linen with matching cashmere sweaters and patio collons — gay prints in cotton polished to resemble the patina in wood. She also accents flame red in silks and chiffons.

YOUR SCHOOL AND YOU

The School Opportunity Class

The Opportunity Class in the Penticton Elementary School was started in September of 1955 to help those children who for various reasons are not able to keep up to their regular classes.

Since they need more individual attention than time will allow in an ordinary classroom, and sometimes different methods of instruction, difficult to fit into the timetable of the regular class, smaller special classes for these people are necessary.

The number in this class is limited to 16 and a classroom has been fitted for their use. Extra tables, chairs and work benches have been installed as well as 16 ordinary desks.

The children are carefully chosen from grades three, four, five and six. They are placed in this class only with the consent of their parents. Since the enrollment in the class is limited, only those that are expected to benefit most are chosen.

Special emphasis is placed on the three R's. As much as possible each child is taught individually. He starts at his own level of achievement and progresses at his own rate of learning.

Reading receives the most attention because most of the other subjects are affected by the inability to read adequately. An effort is made to determine what is causing the child's reading difficulty and remedial methods are used to help overcome them.

A good supply of remedial reading material is on hand, including interesting books with easy vocabularies so that retarded readers can find books that interest them and at the same time are not too difficult for them to read.

The pupils in this class learn as much arithmetic as each is capable of learning. Each child works at his own level and progresses at his own speed. They learn the fundamentals by drilling each other and by having games and contests.

The language arts are taught largely by writing about trips and other interesting things that the class has done. These stories are kept in special books that the pupils have made. Spelling stresses the building of words and the use of phonetic rules. This also helps them to identify new words when they are reading.

MUCH TIME ON CRAFTS

A considerable amount of time is spent on arts and crafts. The main objective being to give these pupils a sense of accomplishment and so help to overcome some of the effects of the failures they have had in their other school life.

An adequate supply of tools is on hand as well as a very popular jig-saw. Some of the articles made by these pupils would do credit to persons much older than they.

Report cards are not used in this class. Instead the pupils visit the classroom several times during the year to see their child's work and discuss his problems and progress.

The parents are encouraged to visit the class during school hours to observe the class in action.

It is hoped that this class will fill a long felt need in our school system and that other classes of this type will be added as the need arises and conditions permit.

B. C. Economy Enjoys Record Year In 1956

A 1956 summary of business activity in British Columbia just released from Victoria says the record clearly indicates that the growth in the economy in 1956 surpassed the high levels of recent years.

The principal measures of economic strength: employment, income, and production, are at record levels.

Average industrial employment is 10 per cent above that prevailing in 1955; total personal income (estimated at over two and one-quarter billion dollars) is almost 15 per cent higher than last year; the net value of all manufacturing production is 60 million dollars, or eight per cent, greater than in the previous year.

In the agricultural department which is particularly pertinent to the Okanagan, cash income from the sale of farm products during 1956 is estimated at $109,500,000, an increase of two million dollars over last year.

The Bureau of Economics and Statistics states that because of the severe frost damage in November of 1955, the production of tree fruits, winter cereals, forage crops, and small fruits, especially, was reduced.

Problems affecting B.C. farmers include the acute general labor shortage, the reduction in available family labor because of the attractions offered by other industries, and the continuing squeeze between costs and prices for agriculture commodities.

SEVERE FROST SETBACK

As a result of the severe fall and winter conditions, the production of tree and small crops generally was down over 1955.

The apple crop was reduced by two million bushels while small fruit production was only about one-fifth of normal.

Vegetable production, on the other hand, was up considerably. The quality of both fruit and vegetables was good because of the favorable summer growing season and excellent fall harvesting conditions.

Fruit prices were high this year and as a result the cash income from fruit production is not expected to be very much below the 1955 figure. Vegetable prices were maintained fairly well and cash income consequently will be appreciably higher than in the previous year.

The forest industries of B.C., which have been setting new records each year, continued to do so in 1956, with the exception of lumber. While the long-term outlook is good, various difficulties occurred during the year which may seriously effect the industry during 1957.

In brief, monthly returns from this industrial group in 1956 indicate new heights in timber cut of 6,205 million board feet; pulp production up to 1,400 thousand tons; paper to 755 thousand tons; and softwood plywood to 1,005 million square feet; while lumber production is down slightly to 4,530 million board feet.

Higher metal prices contributed to making this a record breaking year for the B.C. mining industry. Major gains in the production of zinc more than offset declines in the output of copper and lead, to make the total value of mineral production an estimated $190,000,000, some 8 per cent higher than in 1955.

Values were boosted by a strong world demand for raw materials plus the needs of heavy construction in this country.

During the year the price of copper reached 46 cents a pound compared to last year's average of 37 cents, while average lead and zinc prices were also substantially higher than in 1955.

KEREMEOS

The Board of Commissioners of the Village of Keremeos is currently meeting in the building formerly occupied by the Similkameen Health Centre, which was turned over to the commission at a well-attended meeting of the Keremeos Public Properties Society prior to the end of the year.

Mrs. Grace Lawlor has been appointed secretary-treasurer of Keremeos and District Credit Union. Mrs. Lawlor, who has an office with B. W. Mundell, accounting, will be present on the afternoons of Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week to receive deposits and transact other business.

Albert Van Unen is currently a patient in Penticton hospital.

Services, conducted under the sponsorship of the Canadian Council of Churches, held during the week in common with churches throughout Canada, concluded here on Friday evening. Churches taking part included the United, Anglican, Baptist and Pentecostal, with services being held in the United Church Manse.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Liddell recently were their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Liddell, content of New Westminster, returning from a holiday in Los Angeles.

Frank Schmaus is a patient in Penticton hospital.

Mrs. George Armstrong and her little daughter, Ann Louise, returned from the Penticton hospital over the weekend. The baby is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cornett, all of Keremeos.

Mrs. G. A. Ross is visiting her sister, Mrs. M. Benedict in Tacoma, Wash.

The following slate of officers was elected at the postponed annual meeting of St. John's Anglican Guild held this week: president, Mrs. C. Vansantien; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Harry Carr; 1st. vice-president, Mrs. H. T. Carr; 2nd. vice-president, Mrs. E. Wilson; 3rd. vice-president, Mrs. W. G. Smith. One new member, Mrs. Charles Smith, a newcomer to the district, joined at the meeting. This hard-working group made a gift of $225 to the rectory building fund and set aside sufficient funds to pay back assessment for 1957 in full. As of January 1 this year the newly formed parish of Keremeos-Osoyoos became a reality, with the new incumbent, not yet appointed, to be resident in Keremeos.

BLUEBIRD NOTES

With the onset of snow and cold, most aches and pains seem worse than usual, and arthritis and rheumatism are certainly no exception. Patients must somehow attend the clinic in the hospital, and those without cars of their own are more than ever grateful to the volunteer drivers.

Three mornings each week, busy housewives, members of IOOE, Kiwassa, Royal Purple and Rebekahs brave the weather and the slippery roads to drive around town and pick up their allotted passengers.

At the clinic waits the skilled physiotherapist, Miss Diana Traynor, who has to handle many pieces of the most modern equipment used in the alleviation of muscular ills. Much of this apparatus has been given by local clubs and interested citizens.

It is felt that these generous donors, and the public generally, should be given the chance to see this clinic. "Open House" will be held, therefore, at some time in the near future, after the latest gift, the wax bath from the Kiwassas, has arrived. Particulars will be announced at Jan. 21. This "Open House" will be an interesting affair, as with no patients present in the clinic the physiotherapist will be free to answer questions. It is hoped that the women drivers will be represented.

What's it Got that Everyone's After?

We figured folks would go for the '57 Buick—and big. But we sure didn't figure this—the most rousing reception we've ever seen in all our years of selling new Buicks.

We're getting more enthusiastic talk—along with the signed orders—than ever before. And, neighbor, if you want to know why—listen:

This '57 Buick has that sleek low-sweep styling that today's moderns want—and it's here in extra-long measure, in the lowest Buick yet. It has the room they want—for Buick's new wide-frame chassis permits a sports-car silhouette with more interior roominess than even last year's spacious Buicks. It has newness everywhere, and newness that's wanted... A smart new panoramic windshield of vaster dimensions and greater visibility. The sweet, solid surety of a new "nested" ride. A brilliant new handling and cornering and levelized braking that come of an ingenious new ball-joint suspension. It even has the modern answer for today's driving—a new Safety-Minder* that watches your miles-per-hour for you.

But even more important, this rakish sweep of automobile has a new kind of instant response—and that's the biggest reason for the soaring popularity of the newest Buick-Yet.

For here is performance—smooth as spun silk—unleashed by a totally new V8 engine 364 cubic inches big, and with the highest compression, torque and horsepower in Buick annals.

And here, to deliver that might, is the power-pitch action of an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.* A Dynaflo of such instantaneous obedience, such smooth and versatile control in "Drive"—the need for "Low" is virtually ended.

In all truth, you've never hogged a car so keenly alive, so smooth in motion, so solid in feel. It's ahead of its time, ahead of the industry—even ahead of your great expectations. Come check up on all this for yourself. Come drive this shoulder-high sweetheart with the strong he-and-she appeal. Come be our guest—today.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick holds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special. Safety-Minder standard on Roadmaster only.

LIVERISH? Not me!

Not since I learned about Kruschen! I didn't find it any too soon, either. My job was getting too much for me, and when I got home at night, I was weary as a bear with my family. A chap at work put me on to Kruschen and now I wouldn't be without it. Just a little in my morning coffee when needed sets me up for the day. Of course, Kruschen is a gentle laxative and diuretic, too. It goes to work fast without any fizzing or bubbling. Get a package today and start enjoying life again!

Macmillan Orders Cuts In Defense Spending

By WILLIAM SEXTON

LONDON, (UP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's government opened its anticipated campaign to slash defense spending last night by cancelling orders for 100 jet fighters and cutting back reserve training.

The government announced that:

1. The supply ministry has cancelled orders for 100 cannon-equipped Hunter interceptors

"as a result of a reduction in air force requirements." The precise meaning of this move was uncertain, because the total number of jets on order is a military secret.

2. The air ministry will disband most of the auxiliary air force units whose "weekend fliers" provided the core of British air strength at the outset of World War II.

3. The war office has cancelled summer camps and other part-time training scheduled for British National Guardsmen and army reservists this year.

These measures were regarded as the first trickle of what is expected to be a flood of cut-backs in defense. Full details of the slash in military spending probably will be announced next month.

Britain already has revived a threat to withdraw half or more of its troops from Germany as part of a campaign to persuade West Germany to contribute $190 million a year to the cost of maintaining its British garrison.

Macmillan — than Chancellor of the Exchequer — announced last month that Britain was preparing to cut defense spending in the hope that atomic weapons would provide a satisfactory substitute for manpower and conventional arms.

Announcement of defense set-backs followed reports that Macmillan in his first major diplomatic move as Prime Minister, had proposed British partnership in a "partial free trade area" designed to eliminate most of western Europe's tariff barriers.

Authoritative sources said the Prime Minister formally presented the idea to Belgian foreign minister Paul H. Spaak, chief sponsor of the six-nation customs union now taking shape on the continent, at a meeting yesterday.

An official announcement on the talks said merely that there had been "a valuable exchange of views on the problems of common interest" created by Spaak's efforts to organize an economic union of West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, and Luxembourg.

It predicted that the discussions would "facilitate" the European talks scheduled in Paris next month, at which the continental nations will decide whether to accept Britain's offer.

The free-trade area proposed by Britain would provide a public of 250 million for the industrial products of its members — an economic bloc comparable in size to the domestic markets of the United States or Russia.

MASTER CHEF MIKE FARANO of Nanaimo, is one of the busiest cooks in the world, making what will be the world's largest cake. The 10,000 pound fruit cake, standing 20 feet high, is being made in honor of British Columbia's 100th birthday in 1958. All of the cake's five tiers will be ornately decorated with more than 20,000 decorations depicting outstanding historic events in the province's first 100 years. Sugar statues of B.C.'s early explorers and statesmen, as well as giant replicas of Nanaimo's famed bastion and the B.C. legislative buildings are to be placed around and on top of the cake. Farano has been working on the decorations for the last eight months. His object is to make the cake the biggest, the most tasty ever baked. To help him find the best ingredients and formulas, he has asked the women of B.C. to submit their recipes. When the cake is finished it will be on display in Nanaimo during the summer of 1958. It is to have its own house with an air conditioning system complete with chlorophyll scented air to take off the heavy smell of sugar and spice. Later, the cake will be cut into small pieces and sold — the money received to go towards Nanaimo's Centennial Project.

CAN I GET LIFE INSURANCE FOR NOTHING?

Of course not. But Sun Life of Canada has a policy which will give you all your money back, plus dividends, if you live to 65.

"Think of it! You can buy a Sun Life policy that provides life insurance protection for your family until you are 65, and guarantees that all the money you pay, plus accumulated dividends, will be returned to you if you live to 65.

"At that time, if you do not wish to take the money in a lump sum, it can be left on deposit with a guaranteed rate of interest, or used either to provide an annuity or to provide a paid-up life policy.

"No. You can't get life insurance for nothing. But the value this policy offers as protection for your family in the event of your death or for yourself if you live to retirement age, is something well worth investigating."

With its first policy issued 85 years ago, Sun Life of Canada is today one of the great life insurance companies of the world, with branch offices and agency representation from coast to coast.

*Subject to advance payment or evidence of insurability.

RCMP Booklet Warns Of Bad Cheque Danger

A 15-page booklet entitled "Beware of Bad Cheques" is currently being circulated by RCMP as a warning to all place of business in Penticton to watch out for bogus cheque passers.

Compiled by the fraudulent cheque section of the RCMP, this booklet outlines a number of timely safeguards for business.

The common characteristics of the professional swindler, such as his "front" and plausible arguments, are also listed.

There is a section in the pamphlet which gives the features of Canadian currency, and how to tell when it has been counterfeited.

Among the precautions against swindling, the booklet urges citizens to check their bank statements carefully and notify their better business bureau and chamber of commerce as well as police of any swindles.

In statistical terms, the booklet notes that each year Canadian business loses an estimated $2,000,000 because of forged cheques, raised cheques and money orders.

About 85 percent of fraudulent cheques are cashed in stores and other places of business. Banks, the pamphlet states, are well down on the swindler's list of victims.

In 1955, the fraudulent cheque section of the RCMP received advice of a total $450,000 in forged negotiable paper and it is estimated that only 25 percent of such forgeries were reported to that section.

Private individuals, as well as places of business, are well advised to obtain a copy of this "precautionary" booklet as a safeguard against this form of fraud.

Increase Noted In Canine Distemper

A marked increase in the number of cases of canine distemper is reported by the Penticton Veterinary hospital. The disease is a cause of canine mortality and is incurable by drugs.

Early symptoms are lack of appetite, snuffling, dullness and perhaps a slight discharge from the eyes.

Immunization is 95 per cent effective in preventing the disease.
